

Sectional sofa for creative and flexible combinations

Trix is a modular sofa with great potential to be shaped according to your needs. Build long or short seating solutions with soft, sweeping lines – the possibilities are virtually endless. Combine inward and outward curving modules and finish with the rounded corner pieces.

With Trix, you can create inviting and enclosing seating areas that are perfect for group work, conversations, and togetherness. It is equally functional for spontaneous meetings as for relaxing breaks and social moments.

The design is modern and timeless – created to endure over time in both aesthetics and quality.

Trix is also available as an armchair in the same design language. It can be used freestanding, as part of a seating group, or combined with coffee tables for a complete lounge experience.

Thanks to the wide selection of quality-assured fabrics, leathers, faux leathers and accent colours from Kinnarps Colour Studio, you can create an expression that suits your specific environment. All materials are carefully selected to be durable, long-lasting and easy to match with different interior styles.
